BDG products are designed to protect people in a variety of ways. Regardless of the industry, trade or application you can find the right solution for the task at hand within one of our product brands.

WHO IS BDG?

At Bob Dale Gloves (BDG®), we've been providing the right solution for the task at hand since 1981. Protecting people is our priority, and we've made it our mission to be North America's sought-after glove and hand protection solutions provider.

We're a privately owned and operated company specializing in supplying and manufacturing industrial and retail safety gloves and apparel for the North American market.

BDG® operates strategic distribution hubs in Canada and the U.S. to serve our distribution partners.

In addition to our international manufacturing network, we own and operate in-house manufacturing facilities in Sri Lanka and Canada, with plans to add facilities in the United States in the future.

The industries and markets recognize and demand our BDG® brands. BDG-owned brands include BDG® DENY™, X-SITE™, ARC TEK™, CUT-X™, BDG® BDGplanet™, Classic and Gander Brand®. Products made under these labels conform to the quality controls and protection designed for specific safety needs or trades use.

OUR COMMITMENTS

At BDG® we're committed to always delivering quality personal protective equipment (PPE) to our customers.

We undertake accredited third party testing to ensure our products meet or exceed all industry standards, including ANSI, EN and ISO.

BDG® actively participates in key industry associations and committees, including ISEA, ASTM and IGA.

Our mandate is to sell our products through our distribution partners. Leveraging on what distribution does best allows us to do what we know best.

CUSTOMIZED PROTECTION

G3 Solutions is a hands-on approach to identifying and supplying you with the right gloves for the right task.

Working closely with you, the BDG® team will evaluate your operation and create a hand protection program that fits your needs.

Finding the right safety solution to protect people is our main goal. Our approach in doing this is to conduct on-site or virtual evaluations of each hazard and task in our customers' operations.

As a team, we help identify end user needs in partnership with a trusted distributor to build a safety program that protects people, manages inventory and rationalizes costs.
